Gentlemen's Hats.—Spring Fashion for 1855, just introduced by Espenscheid, of 118 Nassau street. The shape is admirable. It is the most beautiful looking hat that has ever appeared in the field of fashion in New York.

The New Spring Style of Hat.—Mealio, on the corner of Broadway and Canal street, is already out with his spring style of hats, and they certainly surpass in elegatoe and graceful beauty any article of the kind we have looked upon for a long time. We predict that it will carry the palm in the city the coming season, and gentlemen of taste will be forward in adopting it as a mark of their appreciation for the tasteful and worthy compliment to Mealio.

Among the New Styles of Gentlemen's Hats lately introduced, BANTA'S fabries occupy a very prominent place. Equal to any in point of beauty and elegance, they are rendered the more attractive on account of their cheapness. We presume that taste and economy (a thing very few can afford to lose sight of) will lead crowin of visiters to EANTA'S place, at 106 Canal street, extract Wooster.

"This is still the cry." This is still the cry.
"The Life and Beauties of Fanny Fern" reveal the secret.
Fanny herself has attempted to injure the sale of the book—it speaks too plainly—but all envious efforts are of no avail. The book continues to sell with actonishing rapidity. On the first day of its publication the whole edition was disposed of, and the demand from town and country is still unabated H. LONG & BROTHER,

Extract from the Washington Sational Inseligencer, of Feb. 28:—A few words of counsel.—While words of regret for the loss of Mr. Benton's valuable papers are failing from the sips of every intelligent person is this community, and perhaps in this country, we trust we may be pardoned for making a practical, and not unprofitable, remark suggested by this occurrence. For one or two hundred dollars may be purchased a beautiful article of furniture, from which valuables cannot be extracted by thieves, and in which papers cannot be burnt. We allude to HERRING'S safes, of which such admirable specimens may be seen in the exhibition at the Emithaonian Institute. Not only every store and place of burness, but every spacious dwelling should contain one of these secure depositories of the records and other valuable papers, and precious things of every establish-

Dusty Weather and Brandreth's Pills.— Brandreth's pills are in a peculiar manner suitable to the diseases of this climate, and especially this city.
Their prompt and judicious use clear the system of those accommulations often occasioned by suddenly checked perspiration, and by breathing air dilled with dust, as it was in Broadway yesterday. Influenza is atmospherical—it floats in the air—it is breathed and taken into the circulation, poisons our blood, occasions chills, shivering, energing, running at the nose, sore throat, running from the eyes, and, if not speedily cured, lays the foundation for consumption Now, one good dose of Brandreth's pills often cures this complaint at once, but their continued use for a few days never fails. They have already cured at least one thousand persons in the last two weeks. Sold at Dr. RRANDREH'H'S principal office, Brandreth Building—entrance 43 Canal attreet, at 25 cents per box, with full directions; also at the branch offices, 274 Bowery and 241 Rudson street.
